" and we'll arrange it through the BANK OF MONTREAL"

Thousands of business men from Halifax to Victoria look to the Bank of Montreal to give efficient and understanding help in the arrangement of their financing.

With its hundreds of branches across Canada and in Newfoundland—its offices in London, New York, Chicago and San Francisco—its world-wide chain of banking connections, the Bank has unsurpassed equipment to handle your banking transactions, whatever their extent. Behind this organization there is a century and a quarter of banking experience, large resources and a reputation that is international.

You will appreciate the friendly, helpful approach of our managers to your problems.

Wires that speed transactions . . . the Bank's special telegraph facilities keep in constant touch its more important offices in Canada and those it maintains in the United States, thus assuring prompt action on customers' dealings.

Introduction

THE primary object of the publishers of the CANADIAN TRADE INDEX is to provide buyers and sellers of Canada and other countries with an authoritative directory of all products manufactured in Canada and the names of the firms making them. It includes a complete list of Canadian manufacturers having more than a local distribution for their products, irrespective of membership in the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. Approximately eight thousand firms are listed. The names and addresses of companies wholly-owned by the Crown are to be found in the alphabetical section.

This edition of the Index includes the following features: an alphabetical directory of over eight thousand Canadian manufacturers with addresses, branches, export representatives, trade marks and brands; a directory of Canadian manufacturers classified according to the products made; a directory of exporters of agricultural produce and allied lines; an export section giving details of Government services with a Foreword by The Honourable James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa; an alphabetical list in French of the headings in the classified section with parallel English; an alphabetical list of Spanish (limited edition) of headings in the classified section with parallel English.

As a result of wartime controls the manufacture of a number of civilian products has been restricted or discontinued. It was decided, however, to leave the question of listing these products to the decision of individual firms and it will be found that most of the classifications have been retained. These firms have the experience and equipment to manufacture and supply the products to domestic and export markets when industrial and trade controls are relaxed.

Owing to the detailed classification and the numerous advertisements, prospective purchasers are generally in a position to get in direct contact with manufacturers of the goods desired, but where information regarding specialized lines is required the gratuitous service of the Commercial Intelligence Department of the Association is offered. It is suggested that importers abroad should first communicate with Canadian Government Trade Commissioners in their respective territories. Their names are listed on pages 000 and 000 of the Export Section. Representatives of overseas firms visiting Canada are invited to call at the Head Office of the Association where they will be given every possible assistance.

The Index is kept up to date by an annual revision, and the past year has been spent in checking and revising names, addresses, and classifications. Each manufacturer is sent a revising form on which any changes in firm names or products are reported. Additional information is received from Government departments, mercantile reports, and our ten offices across Canada. Classifications are generally established by consultation with manufacturers and experts in various industries.

Following is a short summary of the various changes in the 1943 edition:

New Firms added.....	278	Changes of address.....	282
Firms deleted.....	264	New classifications.....	68
Changes of name.....	50	Classifications deleted.....	88
Changes of location.....	69	Classifications changed.....	25

The publishers wish to thank all organizations, government departments, and the manufacturers who have so kindly aided by furnishing the information on which the book is based.

Employer-Employee Banking Service

A new mail-order banking service of The Canadian Bank of Commerce provides all facilities to busy workers who desire to save money, borrow for emergencies or obtain War Savings Certificates, War Loan Bonds and Money Orders, but who cannot call in person at a bank.

This mail-order service not only saves time, but tires and gasoline as well.

Here is a sample folder form of this new mail-order service. If you are interested in obtaining supplies of this form for use by your employees, apply to the nearest branch of The Canadian Bank of Commerce, or write the Head Office, Toronto.

The War of Production

CANADIAN manufacturers have responded to the call of the Country in a manner deserving of appreciation and praise. Total gross value of manufactured products for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1942 is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to have reached the remarkable total of between six and six and a half billion dollars. This is an increase of approximately 40% over 1941, 50 to 60% over the peace-time record of 1929 and more than double 1918, the big year of the last Great War.

Imperial Bank of Canada welcome applications of Canadian manufacturers for banking accommodation to expand the national war effort. If the proposal is sound we will do our part.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association Incorporated

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1902.

OBJECTS

The objects of the Association are to promote Canadian industries and to further the interests of Canadian manufacturers and exporters, and to render such services and assistance to the members of the Association, and to manufacturers and exporters generally, as the Association shall deem advisable from time to time.

SERVICES

In war most of the services listed below are more in demand than ever. War and war conditions have brought many new problems arising out of adapting the industrial system of the country to new production, locating new sources of raw materials and manufactured goods, finding new markets, complying with new regulations in existing markets, exchange control and import restrictions, employer and employee relations, shipping and insurance, legal and taxation difficulties, scientific and industrial research, priorities and control of materials.

Transportation Department— Deals with and watches developments in all matters affecting Transportation by Air, Highway, Inland Water, Ocean, Rail, Telegraph or Telephone. Acts for or advises members respecting Claims, Classifications, Contracts, Documents, Legislation, Rates, Regulations, Rules or Services pertaining to the transportation of Communications, Goods, Mail or Passengers. Supplies information on control of oil and gasoline.

Tariff Department— Interpretation of Canadian Customs Tariff; information in regard to tariffs of all civilized countries; questions of value for duty; assistance in Customs drawback claims and refunds; advice in regard to invoices; preparation of cases for the Tariff Board; assistance in the matter of needed tariff changes; advice on sales and excise tax problems. Supplies information on price control, export permits, trading with the enemy, import licensing requirements of other countries and foreign exchange control.

Insurance Department— Studies insurance legislation, including war risk insurance and bombardment insurance, gives confidential advice on the standing of insurance companies, information on group insurance and pension schemes, and co-operates with other organizations in fire prevention and insurance matters in general.

Legal Department— Maintains a watching brief on all Canadian legislation, receives copies of all Bills introduced in Federal and Provincial legislatures, studies the measures proposed, and assists the Legislation Committee in deciding and carrying out the policies of the Association. Deals with problems arising under the Income War Tax Act, the Excess Profits Tax Act and numerous regulations issued under the War Measures Act.

Commercial Intelligence Department— Information re articles made in Canada; names of manufacturers of articles; information re agencies and export connections; sources of supplies of raw materials; Government regulations re manufacturers; translations of foreign correspondence; classified lists of manufacturers; commercial statistics and trade information; commercial reports on overseas firms; priorities and controls; war restrictions on manufacturing; problems of war production.

The Trade Sections Department supplies a secretarial and organizing service to any group of manufacturers who may desire to organize along lines of production and for the purpose of dealing with common problems incidental to any trade.

Industrial Relations Department— Studies various questions arising out of relations between employers and employees. Among the more important of these are Workmen's Compensation, Old Age Pensions, Hours of Work, Unemployment Insurance, Conciliation and Arbitration of Industrial Disputes, Wages and Salaries Control, including Cost of Living Bonus, and Factory Legislation.

Publishing Department— The following publications are supplied to all members of the Association:

(a) "Industrial Canada" the official organ of the Association, which contains information compiled from the various Departments, and also commercial news of a general character.

(b) The Canadian Trade Index—This book contains a list of all the manufacturers in Canada, with the Goods which they make. It is distributed abroad through Government Trade Commissioners, Export Organizations and other agencies.

FEES

The Association is maintained by the fees paid by members. The fee in each case is determined by the number of employees. For further information please communicate with the Head Office—

PEDLAR'S "Metal-Built Products"

War production must come first. Our contribution to Canada's war requirements have been given the right of way . . . first call on our manpower, resources and productive facilities.

But we are not forgetting that one day the instruments of war will be turned to more peaceful pursuits . . . that the swords of today will be beaten back into the plowshares of tomorrow.

In developing today new steps in the production of metal units for war, we are laying the ground work for better Metal-Built Products . . . to serve our customers when the world again turns to "business as usual."

Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Air Compressors are built in a wide range of types and sizes, for capacities, pressures and styles of drive applicable to every compressed air requirement.

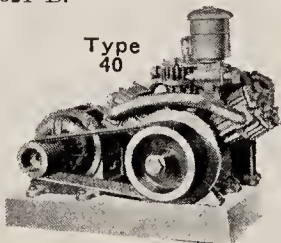

Type 20

The Type 20, above, a dependable, direct - coupled unit, capacity 119 cubic feet per minute. Bulletin K-321-B.

Type 30

The Type 30, for every requirement from 75 c.f.m. down to 1½ c.f.m., in literally dozens of drive, cylinder and mounting arrangements. Bulletin 7502-L.

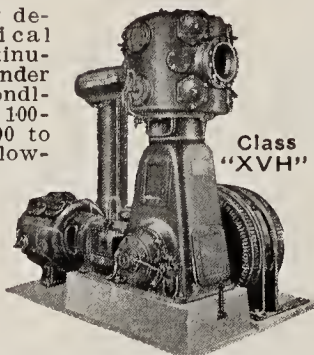

Type
40

The Type 40, air-cooled, ideal where cooling water is not available, or in unheated locations, or for intermittent operations, standby duty, etc. Many sizes, 122 to 360 c.f.m. Bulletin K-330.

Class "ES"

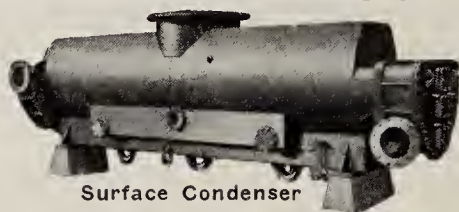

The "ES", a highly dependable, economical compressor for continuous 24-hour duty under the most severe conditions. Many sizes for 100-lb. pressure, from 100 to 686 c.f.m.; others for lower pressures up to 1990 c.f.m. Also built for steam drive, known as the "ES". Catalogue K-328.

Class
"XVH"

The "XVH", heaviest duty compressor for all standard conditions and for any capacity from 400 c.f.m. and up. An outstanding performer in Canadian mines and industrial plants. Featured by efficient, power-saving, partial load control, roller bearings and Channel valves. Most economically operated, heavy-duty compressor available. Catalogue K-324-B.

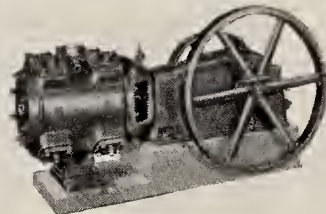

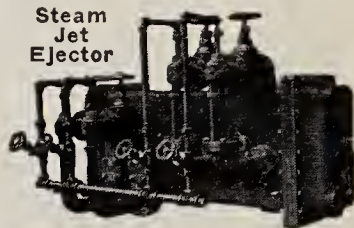

Condensers and Vacuum Equipment—

Surface Condenser

For modern power plants and process industries, there is a complete line of steam condensing apparatus, vacuum-producing equipment, and related items, including surface and barometric condensers, steam jet ejectors, reciprocating vacuum pumps and other auxiliaries. This Company is in a position to recommend the correct size and type of condens-

STEEL

Steel is adaptable . . .

Steel is dependable . . .

Steel is compact . . .

Steel is uniform . . .

Steel is the symbol of strength . . .

and because of these qualities, Steel is the most coveted material of nations at war. Civilian needs for the time being must be relegated to the background.

When Steel has played its part in bringing this war to a successful conclusion and the arts of peace flourish once more, it will again lead the march of civilization.

A list of Algoma Steel Products will be found on the opposite page.

ALGOMA STEEL CORPORATION LIMITED

ALGOMA QUALITY MEETS WORLD STANDARDS

Steel produced by Algoma is qualified by 40 years of use in Canadian industry to meet world standards. Its product is made to the specifications of Canadian engineers and metallurgists whose limits and tolerances are as fine as any in the world. Algoma is the foremost Canadian producer of railroad, structural and alloy steels. Algoma supplies a wide range of shapes and sections, in hundreds of grades of carbon and alloy steels, to domestic and export markets, for automobiles, buildings, bridges, agricultural implements, mining equipment, docks and drainage structures, household products, machinery, rails and railroad equipment, public utilities and for other products and uses.

ALLOY STEELS—

Pioneers in Canada of Alloy Steels in hot rolled sections, bars and billets. Specially suited to conditions demanding high tensile strength and shock resistance combined with reduced weight. Chromium, Nickel, Vanadium, Molybdenum, Copper, Manganese, Silicon, singly or in combination, can be supplied to S.A.E. or customers' specifications.

BILLETS—BLOOMS—SLABS—

Made of Algoma high-quality Steel for rerolling and forging. Supplied in Carbon and Alloy grades.

BILLETS AND BLOOMS in all squares from 3¼" x 3¼" to 18" x 18" inclusive.

SLABS from 4" to 20" wide—any thickness 2" and over.

FORGED STEEL GRINDING BALLS—

Most up-to-date manufacturing methods guarantee uniform density . . . roundness . . . smoothness . . . maximum crushing efficiency . . . wearing quality. Accurate heat treatment assures hardness all the way through. Sizes: 2" to 5" inclusive.

GRINDING RODS—

Special high carbon grinding rods used by the mining industry throughout Canada. Complete range of sizes.

PIG IRON—

Algoma Machine Cast "PIGLET" in all grades of FOUNDRY, MALLEABLE, BASIC IRON.

BLACK SHEETS AND TINPLATE.

The products of our new Sheet and Tinplate Mills are of the highest quality and are used by leading manufacturers.

Sheets: Hot Rolled, Hot Rolled Annealed, Tin Mill Black.

Tinplate: Coke Tinplate, Standard Finish.

RAILS—Standard and Mining—

Canadian, British and American Standard Sections to 130 lbs. per yard. A.S.C.E. Sections 12 lb. to 45 lb. inclusive.

RAIL FASTENINGS

Angle bars and 100% joints fitting all standard rail sections to 130 lbs. per yard. Fish plates for light rails.

Tieplates: "Lundie", "Sellers Anchor Bottom" and "Compression Bottom" designs, fitting all standard Rail sections.

REINFORCING BARS—

Of New Billet Open Hearth Steel. Round, square and twisted. Give strength and permanence to concrete construction.

SPRING STEELS—

Round, square, octagon and flat carbon or alloy bars for helical or elliptical springs.

STEEL BARS—

ALGOMA STEEL Supplies a Wide Range of

FLATS to	12"
ROUNDS to	4½"
SQUARES to	3"
OCTAGONS	1½" and 1¾"

Commercial or forging quality in carbon and alloy steels.

STEEL SHEET PILING—

Sole Canadian Makers of STEEL SHEET PILING. Supplied in open hearth carbon steel of structural grade or high tensile carbon steel. Alloyed with copper or chromium where necessary to resist corrosion. Four distinct types to suit heavy, intermediate or light construction. Tie rods, turnbuckles, driving caps and fabricated corners.

*STRUCTURAL STEEL SHAPES—

The widest range of structural sections produced in Canada. Standard I-Beams and Channels to 15" in depth of web, 6" x 6" H-Beams and 8" x 6½" modified H sections. All sections available in Carbon or Alloy Steel. Range of sizes and sections as follows:

LESS OIL

now does more and better work

LUBRICATING oil, cutting oil, grinding coolant, flushing oil, hydraulic press oil, honing oil and similar products serve their several purposes efficiently only when they are kept free from the impurities normally collected in service—usually dirt of various kinds, metallic particles and water.

De Laval Oil Purifiers and Coolant Clarifiers remove these impurities so completely that the constantly purified liquid performs at full efficiency over an indefinite period. Oil or coolant is saved; machines are better protected against wear; cutting or grinding tools last longer, can work faster; finishes are improved; parts are protected against damage from rust or grit—all depending upon the specific purpose for which the De Laval machine is installed.

Wherever oil or other valuable liquids are used and can be re-used if cleaned, there is an opportunity not only to conserve material, but often to effect far more important economies and improvements in other directions.

A De Laval engineer will be glad to assist in solving your problem—without obligation, of course.

CUT WEIGHT – SAVE TIME INCREASE PRODUCTION with WELDED STEEL TUBING

“STAN” STEEL FACTORY TRUCKS AND EQUIPMENT

Designed through close study of shop requirements, the Stan-Steel line of ladders, work benches and trucks of every kind are bringing old-established plants up to 1943 standards. Why should men push dead weight around? Save your labour for more productive work. You will find full information in the latest Stan-Steel Catalogue. Write for a copy.

You are wasting time and money if you have not thought what savings steel tubing can bring you. A tube is the strongest section you can have per pound of weight. Transportation Companies know this. That is why aeroplanes, busses, trucks and railway cars use so much tubing.

In every industry there are places where steel tubing can effect savings. With us this is a constant study, so it is likely we can help you find out where your costs can be cut, time saved, appearance of your product improved or weight reduced.

STAN-STEEL Tubing, produced by the electric-resistance welded process, is conceded to be the best welded tube ever developed. Sizes from $\frac{3}{8}$ " O.D. x 24 gauge to 3" O.D. x 11 gauge. Give this suggestion your serious thought now. Write for Hand Book.

Speed Reducers

Used wherever High Speed Power is applied to Low Speed Use

Worm gear and helical gear units, in single and multiple reduction, are made in a wide range of sizes. Send for catalogue on either of these types, listing standard sizes, with power capacities and detail specifications. These are high grade, heavy duty gear drives, designed and rated for 24-hour continuous service. Ratios are available up to six thousand to one in simple, efficient, self-contained units.

Integral motorized speed reducers and increasers, built as one self-contained unit, are made in a full range of sizes, in both worm gear and helical gear forms, in single and multiple reduction, to give almost any desired final speed. This construction offers many advantages in freedom of arrangement.

We have extended our line of Double Reduction Worm units to quite large sizes. These have ratios ranging from about 60 up to 6000 to one. A catalogue covers this line in detail.

The Planetary type of speed reducer with shafts in line is now made for coupled connection, as shown, as well as in the original motorized form. A catalogue has been issued on each of these lines.

The Compensating
Joint

Silent Chain Drives

The Hamilton-Ramsey silent chain (made in Canada) will operate at higher speeds and run smoother and with less wear than any competing chain because of the compensating rolling cam action in the patented Ramsey joint. 24-hour delivery, in $\frac{3}{8}$ " to $1\frac{1}{2}$ " pitch.

ROLDWELD Steel Spur Gears

This new electric-welded steel gear has a .45% C. forging-quality rim. It is long wearing and practically unbreakable. The cost is less than a steel casting, the strength is greater, and delivery can be made in a quarter of the time. See photo above.

Flexible Couplings

A full line of standard flexible couplings for both high speed and slow speed, the former illustrated here, are carried in stock. Larger sizes to order. We also stock small power flexible couplings down to fractional h.p. ratings. Send for coupling catalogue.

THE MAN WITH A DRAWER FULL OF TOMORROW...

(A suggestion for the man who is helping win the war today)

"WHERE have you been?" asked the General Manager. "I haven't seen a Taylor Field Engineer for some time!"

"That's because I've been spending more time with your plant production men. Bill Stevens and I have just revamped a temperature control setup that will increase your output materially!"

"Fine!" the G. M. said. "But what's on your mind now?"

"Just this," I said. "Your whole effort today is on winning the war. But you must all plan on how to win the peace. And Taylor Instruments can help do both."

"How's that?" he asked.

"Simply because of the way they're built. Taylor Instruments today are designed for speedy conversion to new methods, new products, new emergencies as they arise. The same instruments that are helping you meet war production schedules now will help you switch to peacetime manufacturing as soon as the war is won!"

The G. M. pointed to a filing cabinet. "Here's a drawer full of post-war ideas. There's a lot of Taylor material in here now. But give me everything else you think we can use. We want to plan with Taylor in mind!"

In their daily servicing of war industry, Taylor Field Engineers are amassing a wealth of experience that can help you tomorrow—and more important, right now! Call your local Taylor office. Or write Taylor Instrument Companies of Canada Limited, Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver. Instruments for indicating, recording and controlling temperature, pressure, humidity, flow and liquid level.

Here is the Toronto plant of Taylor Instrument Companies of Canada Limited. Today it is over 90% engaged in supplying war needs . . . tomorrow when peace comes it will also be at full pressure helping solve the production problem when the war ends.

PAGE-HERSEY

1. CONTINUOUS- WELD Process

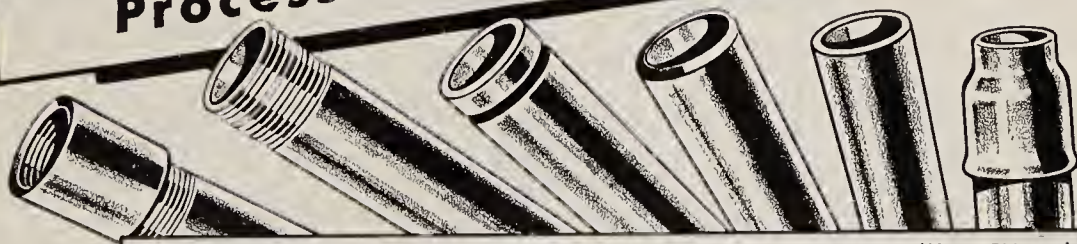

Low-cast steel pipe now made by the new continuous-weld-automatic process. Absolutely scale free. Ensures a stronger pipe weld and uniform 21-foot lengths. Replaces the bellweld method. Makes possible single lengths up to 50'. Sizes $\frac{1}{8}$ " to 3" diameter.

Pioneered in Canada by Page-Hersey. Withstands greater strains and pressure. Manufactured especially for larger diameter pipe. Sizes 1" to 12" diameter.

2. LAPWELD Process

The strongest pipe process offered. Absolutely without welds. 100% of the strength of the metal. Recommended for exceptionally high pressure or strain. Sizes $\frac{1}{4}$ " to 6" diameter.

PAPERS WITH A PURPOSE

The papers which bear the "R" Shield watermark have a mission in life. Each one endeavors, in its own niche, to provide a medium most suitable and as fine as possible for the use intended.

For each department of commercial correspondence and records you will find an appropriate Rolland paper. In the purchase of paper for your particular requirements, to specify a Rolland product will always assure a sheet that is best suited to the type of work you have in hand.

save you money

Here we show only a few of the parts we are making for various Canadian manufacturers. These include automobile ornaments and hardware, plumbing fixtures, padlocks, door stops, hose nozzles, telephone stands, clock cases, candlesticks, and gears and other parts for washing machines. If your product has metal parts now made by the slower and more expensive sand-casting method, it will pay you well to look into the savings and better satisfaction of die casting.

STRENGTH — Our zinc base alloy is from virgin metals of a tested, proven formula. A thermostat holds the casting temperature to an absolute pre-determined degree. Our machines, which are of the latest improved type, always produce a dense, homogeneous casting.

PRECISION — Our dies will assure all dimensions within extremely close limits. The variety of castings now being made in our plant is evidence of our ability to turn out successfully whatever you may require.

FINISH — Requires very little machining or polishing in your factory.

CLASSROOMS OF WAR

R.C.A.F. classes in tractor operation and maintenance at International Harvester branches study engine design and performance.

International Harvester Maintenance Schools Serve Army and R.C.A.F.

MECHANIZED WAR demands well-trained war mechanics and servicemen to keep the Royal Canadian Air Force planes flying and the Canadian Army's equipment rolling. To provide the instructors and facilities for training men to keep this equipment on the job is another essential wartime undertaking of International Harvester.

Harvester has turned instructor for two different types of training schools: (1) R.C.A.F. Aerodrome Equipment Service Schools, with special emphasis on International Diesel TracTracTors, many of which are used to build and maintain R.C.A.F. flying fields, and (2) courses in Army Motor Vehicle Maintenance and Repair.

With the Dominion in its fourth year of war, Harvester of Canada serves the nation as manufacturer of war goods and farm machines and as instructor in "war mechanics." Harvester marches with the ranks for Canada, the Empire, and Victory!

A Complete Line in the 22" and 30" Widths

¶ All except the very low priced papers are laboratory tested for non-fading colors. They retain their freshness and beauty on the wall long after papers of inferior quality have faded and lost their original colors.

¶ All low and medium priced papers are ready-trimmed. The selvages are cut off in process of manufacture leaving clean cut, perfect matching edges. Ends of rolls are capped for protection—a great labor-saver—and easy to put on the walls.

¶ These ready-trimmed rolls have for several years been exported to many foreign countries giving entire satisfaction to the purchasers.

¶ Sample books and a specimen roll of ready-trimmed paper will be sent free upon request. Special attention to export orders.

PAPER THE MODERN PACKAGING MATERIAL

Containers made from paper products by Continental are widely and successfully used by food packers and various industries, having positively proved their quality, durability and utility. Thus, other materials now restricted in supply, are released for wartime use.

Continental paper bags, tougher, better, longer lasting, are recognized by manufacturers and retailers as the finest obtainable.

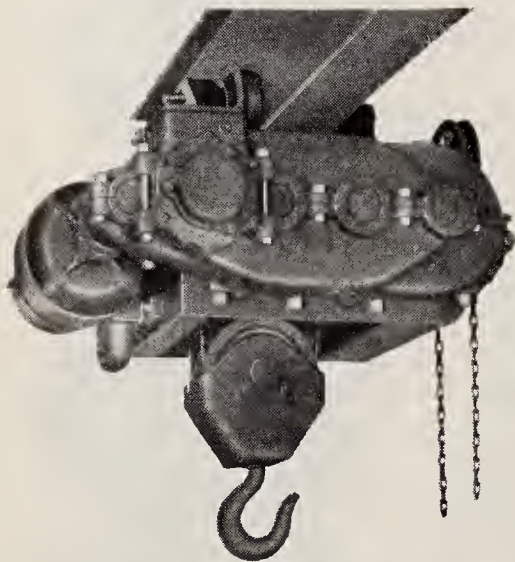

Write us for suggestions, samples and prices. Our staff of packaging experts are always at your service.

NORTHERN HI-LIFT HOIST

Gives You MORE HEADROOM

Headroom costs plenty when you have to build it into the plant. Every inch of height eliminated makes substantial saving. • The Northern Hi-Lift Hoist enables you to get along with less total headroom because it uses more that is already available. It lifts close to its supporting beam—allowing higher piling in storage space — easier handling of bulky loads everywhere • It is stronger — has more lifting power. All mechanism is completely accessible. Mechanical brake parts may be removed without opening the gear case. • A variety of sizes and types—Northern is a long life, low cost Hoist.

CONSERVING CRITICAL MATERIALS

The problem of speeding production while conserving hard-to-get materials is one on which the Development and Research Division of this company has gathered much valuable data. New Alloys containing smaller quantities of the critical elements are already being successfully produced and used. A great deal of information on subjects such as wear, corrosion and strength of materials is available. Correspondence is invited.

LITERATURE

The properties and applications of "Monel," Nickel and other Nickel alloys are described in publications which are issued regularly as well as in up-to-date bulletins dealing with the latest developments. Publications include "Nickel Cast Iron News," "Nickel Steel Topics," "Nickelsworth" and others. You may receive these regularly at your request. Complete lists of our publications are available.

SPECIAL EXPORT SECTION

by THE HONOURABLE JAMES A. MacKINNON

Minister of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa.

CANADA'S high rank among world trading nations was a peacetime commonplace. Having a very large producing capacity in certain specialized fields, combined with a limited home market consumption, the Dominion has had to look to the whole world for export outlets in order to foster the full economic development of its natural resources and of the industries based upon them.

A large volume of imports, as well as of exports, has been indispensable to Canadian prosperity. The steady growth of Canada's diversified manufacturing industries has been dependent upon the import of a wide range of materials to supplement domestic products. Moreover, the high standard of living attained by the Canadian people in peacetime has meant that foreign sources of supply have had to be drawn upon heavily for a wide variety of consumers' goods.

Since the outbreak of hostilities a large and extremely important segment of the trading area of the world has been blacked out and in the remaining areas, where the commerce of the United Nations is still being vigorously carried on, the normal methods of trade have been increasingly subordinated to the necessities of war. While the detailed statistics of external trade are no longer published, the total trade figures indicate that Canada's commerce abroad—both imports and exports—has risen to record levels. This is a reflection, in large measure, of Canada's role as one of the chief arsenals of democracy. Canadian equipment, materials and foodstuffs are playing their part in every theatre of war. The rise in the Dominion's imports is due to the immense requirements of materials to sustain our extensive war industries. Within the limits imposed by the heavy demands upon shipping for war transport purposes, and by the enforcement of priorities of both material and labour for direct war requirements, Canadians may well take satisfaction in the degree to which the Dominion's prewar external trade has been maintained.

The various services of the Department of Trade and Commerce have been placed on a wartime footing. The Canadian Trade Commissioners are doing their utmost to preserve contacts and to maintain commercial good-will abroad. Under present circumstances, their duties are especially important in respect to assisting Canada's customers in friendly countries to secure their minimum requirements of those classes of goods that may be considered essential under wartime standards.

Other Divisions of the Department have been active in their respective fields, with special significance attaching under present circumstances to the work of the Export Permit Branch, to the several Divisions of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics that have undertaken large additional wartime responsibilities, and to the duties of such organizations as the Canadian Shipping Board and the Shipping Priorities Committee, which, while not forming an integral part of the Department, are closely associated with it both in organization and in the nature of their responsibilities.

Department of Trade and Commerce

The Act of Parliament which in 1887, created the Department of Trade and Commerce and which was brought into effect by an Order-in-Council, dated December 5th, 1892, merely provided that there should be a Department of the Government of Canada to be called the Department of Trade and Commerce. The duties and powers of the Minister were defined to be the execution of laws enacted by the Parliament of Canada relating to such matters connected with trade and commerce generally, as had not been assigned to any other Department of the Government. In the succeeding years a wide range of services have been performed and at present the Acts administered by the Department include The Canada Grain Act; Electricity Inspection Act; Gas Inspection Act; Electricity and Fluid Exportation Act; Electric Units Act; Precious Metals Marking Act; Statistics Act; Water Meters Act; Inspection of Weights and Measures Inspection Act; Inland Water Freight Rates Act; Grain Futures Act.

The various functions of the Department are carried out by the following organizations:—

FOREWORD:

EXPORT TRADE:

The Commercial Intelligence Service in Canada and abroad.
The Foreign Tariffs Division.
The Trade Routes and Steamship Subsidies Division.

The Commercial Intelligence Service

The Commercial Intelligence Service, which is the chief agency of the Government for assisting export trade, consists of headquarters in the Department at Ottawa and a corps of Trade Commissioners stationed abroad.

The headquarters staff comprises a director in charge of administration and an assistant director; four commodity divisions, namely, agricultural and fish products, metals and chemical products, forest products and manufactured products; an editorial division; and a trade directories division.

The function of the commodity divisions is to collect data relating to the commodities which Canada exports and to distribute information regarding export opportunities to Canadian exporters. By specializing on groups of commodities, the officers of the divisions obtain an intimate knowledge of the trade in these products and are able to render valuable assistance to exporters.

The Commercial Intelligence Journal, which contains the reports of Trade Commissioners and other trade information, is issued weekly for a nominal subscription of $1.00 per annum.

The Directory of Canadian Exporters, a copy of which is supplied to each Trade Commissioner, contains a record of every Canadian firm whom the Department knows to be exporting, the commodities it manufactures, the names of its foreign agents, etc. The Trade Commissioners compile for their own use and for the Department an Importers Directory containing similar information about firms in their respective territories who are known to be interested in purchasing from Canada.

Prior to the war there were thirty-three Trade Commissioner offices. As a result of enemy conquests, offices in Europe, Japan, Hong Kong, China and British Malaya had to be closed and the Trade Commissioners and Assistant Trade Commissioners have been assigned for special duty in Canada. At present there are twenty-six offices, fifteen in Empire countries and eleven in foreign countries. Two specialists, a Fruit Trade Commissioner and an Animal Products Trade Commissioner, are stationed in London.

The duties of Trade Commissioners are to promote the export trade of Canada; to link up the Canadian exporter with the foreign importer; to study conditions and needs of the territories where they are located; to make direct enquiries or conduct preliminary surveys regarding the potential market for any product, reporting the exact kinds of goods wanted, competition to be met, and the best methods of packing, shipping and billing. Their services are always at the disposal of firms and individuals interested in Canada's trade expansion.

Trade developments the world over are reported by these Commissioners to the Department at Ottawa and this information is available to all Canadian exporters.

Assistance that can be given by Canadian Trade Commissioners

Despite the fact that many Canadian plants are fully occupied in connection with the war effort and also that the necessity exists for conserving most of the basic materials for war purposes, there are many commodities which are available for export. In any investigation which Canadian exporters may wish to make looking to possible markets for the products they manufacture or produce, Trade Commissioners are prepared to render a wide range of assistance, which may be indicated, in part, as follows:—

Commercial Information

1. Preliminary information relating to possible markets abroad for Canadian products, including:
  - (a) The present and prospective demand for their goods.
  - (b) Foreign and local competition (with specimens, catalogues and prices).
  - (c) Details of best selling methods.
  - (d) Reports on foreign buyers, though the Department cannot assume any responsibility in any opinions expressed by Trade Commissioners. They, however, will use their best endeavours to advise exporters as to the standing of such firms.
  - (e) Specifications of articles in particular demand.
  - (f) Definite inquiries for goods by foreign importers.

Agents, Buyers, and Distributors

2. Trade Commissioners will also:—
  - (a) Recommend to intending exporters the names of responsible parties in a position to act as agents or buyers and distributors.
  - (b) Give every possible assistance to such agents, etc., and will introduce them to influential individuals or associations who may be in a position to buy goods from Canada.
  - (c) Give confidential information, when so requested, as to the activities of agents appointed by Canadian exporters, or firms to whom sales have been, or are being, made.
3. Trade Commissioners can assist in advising Canadian exporters and manufacturers:—
  - (a) As to the best media in which to place advertisements and the form which such advertisements should take, i.e., their adaptation to the special requirements of the community.
  - (b) In the display of catalogues, price lists and samples where they can be seen by potential buyers.
  - (c) As to the distribution of trade literature and its probable cost.

General

4. (a) Trade Commissioners are always prepared to receive visitors from Canada and introduce them to possible buyers or agents, or put them in contact with such experts as legal advisers, interpreters, and shipping and banking representatives.
- (b) The good offices of Trade Commissioners can always be invoked with a view to settling difficulties which may arise between the Canadian exporters and buyers abroad.
- (c) Trade Commissioners will at any time provide such information as may be available as to freight rates customs, port dues, etc., so as to enable Canadian firms to quote prices for delivery overseas. They will be glad also to provide information respecting cost of travel, regulations applicable to commercial travellers, packing and marking of goods, shipping accommodation, storage arrangements, and any other foreign government regulations or conditions which have to be complied with.

Financial Arrangements

5. Particulars can be obtained with regard to:—
- (a) Terms of credit which may be given to foreign buyers.
- (b) Financial houses and banks who will discount bills or give credit.
- (c) Regulations governing the recovery of debts in foreign countries.
- (d) Disposal of goods abroad contracted for but not accepted by foreign buyers.
- (e) Infringement of trade marks or patent rights; and advice on registration.

Information Necessary to the Trade Commissioner

When a Canadian exporter desires the assistance of a Trade Commissioner in marketing his goods abroad, he should with the first letter provide that officer with the following:—

- (a) Catalogues and best export prices c.i.f. port of entry, or failing that, f.o.b. Canadian port. It is quite useless to send prices f.o.b. factory.
- (b) Details regarding process of manufacture if convenient.
- (c) If not too bulky, samples of what the firms have to offer should be forwarded—not necessarily a full range—and a draft or money order sufficient to cover the customs duties and landing charges on the samples.
- (d) Bankers' references.
- (e) The proportion of output which is available for export, time required to ship from receipt of order and the quantity for which orders will be accepted.
- (f) Details of the experience he has had in the territory served by the Trade Commissioner.
- (g) Information regarding previous connections, if any, which he has either with agents or importers. If connections still exist, what, if any, bearing will they have on fresh contacts that may be established through the efforts of the Trade Commissioner.

The Trade Commissioner will thus be in a position to make a survey of his territory, report the opportunities for the lines to be exported, and can then either place the exporter in communication with reliable importers or recommend suitable agents.

What the Canadian Exporter can do for the Trade Commissioner

The meagre information frequently furnished by Canadian exporters places a serious handicap on the Trade Commissioner in his efforts to market their products.

A general statement, therefore, of the facts about the exporter, his banking references, whether he is already engaged in foreign trade, and for what period and to what extent, are some of the essentials which should be given in the first letter either to the Department or to a Trade Commissioner, particularly the latter. He also wants general data about the commodity which the exporter wishes to sell in that particular market, noting any special advantages pertaining to the line offered, particularly as compared with well-known articles of the same type from other countries. He also wants to know exactly what the manufacturer is himself willing to do to place his goods in the new field: the basis on which sales would be made to the importer or on which goods could be offered for sale by a recognized agent, and the commission that would be paid the latter; what would be required of an importing house or agent in order to obtain the agency for the line; whether the manufacturer would send consignment stock or samples and in what quantity; whether he is prepared to advertise or to co-operate in advertising and to what extent; the facilities possessed by the manufacturer for export shipment, and the kind of supervision that is exercised by him over the packing of goods destined for a distant market.

Prices

Prices should never be quoted from an interior manufacturing point in Canada. Where quotations c.i.f. port of destination are not practicable, they should be given f.o.b. steamer, but it is strongly recommended that prices should be quoted c.i.f. This is a most important point, as the foreign buyer has no definite knowledge of the charges likely to be incurred if quotations are f.o.b. cars at port of shipment and freight rates from some interior point in Canada to the seaboard are unobtainable in foreign countries. He has no means of knowing insurance rates, or the elements that enter into the fixing of the premiums. As a rule he is unable to obtain a quotation of an outward freight rate at an inward port, as the general practice of steamship companies is to refer a request for a freight rate from (say) Montreal to Auckland to the agent in the former city, although an approximate rate may be quoted. The foreign buyer is at a distinct disadvantage unless prices are quoted c.i.f.

Discounts

Discounts should be printed, or typewritten, preferably on a folder or slip accompanying the catalogue. In submitting an illustrated descriptive catalogue to prospective customers the importer should not be placed in the position of having to disclose the exact terms on which the goods are offered to him.

Gross and Net Weight

A knowledge of the gross and net weights per unit quoted is essential. Without these the prospective purchaser is unable to estimate laid down costs.

Summary of Points to be Noted

The fullest possible information in regard to the commodity and complete details on the following points would greatly aid the Trade Commissioners in the intelligent handling of inquiries addressed to them as to the introduction and subsequent marketing of Canadian goods on behalf of exporters:—

1. Cable address, code used, and special code words not in the regular code books.
2. Bankers' references.
3. (a) The basis on which prices are quoted, whether c.i.f. main foreign ports; f.a.s. Canadian ports; or f.o.b. vessel.
- (b) Are prices in Canadian or American funds?
- (c) If prices are c.i.f. and transshipment has to be made, are such items as consular charges and disbursements at port of transshipment and/or unloading for account of buyer?
4. Are quotations firm, or subject to change without notice due to fluctuations in costs of raw material?
5. On what quantity basis are quotations made? Can prices be reduced on quantity orders and if so how much?
6. Are orders subject to acceptance by exporter?
7. What brand do lines bear, and are these to be sold under this brand in foreign markets?

8. What is the nature of packing? Heavy wooden crates, boxes, new bags or burlap?
9. Are lines stocked and available for immediate shipment? If not, how long after receipt of order will goods go forward?
10. What are your terms? Is there a special discount for cash?
11. What is the gross and net weight in pounds? Measurement in cubic feet?

With the foregoing information on hand, supplemented by recent catalogues and descriptive literature, and, if not too bulky, samples—not necessarily a full range—Trade Commissioners are put in a position to give the best service to Canadian exporters and can either place them in communication with reliable importers or recommend suitable agents.

Foreign Tariffs Division

The Foreign Tariffs Division of the Department of Trade and Commerce furnishes information on the tariffs and trade regulations in force in all countries to which Canadian goods are exported. The information supplied relates to rates of duty applicable to particular goods, commercial treaties, methods of valuation for duty purposes, anti-dumping legislation, Empire content required for tariff preferences, prescribed forms of certificates of origin, invoicing and consular procedure, merchandise marks laws, food standards, animal and plant pest regulations, import prohibitions, licensing, quota restrictions, exchange control and related subjects. The Division answers specific enquiries from exporters, issues circulars, and prepares articles for the Commercial Intelligence Journal. It co-operates with other branches of the government service in assembling data for tariff negotiations between Canada and other countries.

Subsidized Steamship Services

Under the Mail Subsidies and Steamship Subventions Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, subsidies for ocean services are paid to assist in the maintenance of trade communications between Canada and other countries for the use of Canadian exporters and for the maintenance and development of our foreign markets; and also for the carriage of mails between Canada and certain foreign countries.

Local services are subsidized to assist in maintaining adequate transportation by water from the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Canada for passengers, mails and freight.

Since the outbreak of war nearly all local subsidized services, and part of our subsidized ocean services, have been continued, although the latter have been reduced to some extent by war conditions, including the requisitioning of certain ships for purposes connected with the war.

In addition to carrying on these activities the Director of the Branch has represented the Department of Trade and Commerce on inter-departmental committees formed either before or after the outbreak of war, including the Emergency Legislation Committee, the Committee on Ships and Aircraft, the Committee on the Conservation of Canadian Shipping, the Sub-Committee of Defence Co-ordination Committee on War Risk Insurance, and the Committee on the Exportation of Key Commodities.

Publicity and Advertising Branch

The Publicity and Advertising Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce was organized in 1927. The primary objects of this Branch were to disseminate informative reading matter throughout Canada and to various parts of the world, exclusive of Great Britain and Europe, and also to place certain advertising in publications interested in various phases of trade and commerce, both internal and external. The Branch distributes every week the Canadian News Letter, of approximately 2,000 words, covering a fairly wide range of Canadian activities. This news letter is sent to all Trade Commissioners, and to quite a number of other persons directly interested. The Branch also distributes every week for Canadian consumption a compendium of news received from Canadian Trade Commissioners. The advertising placed by the Branch is largely directed to manufacturers, exporters and business executives, and stresses the services which are rendered by the Department of Trade and Commerce, with particular reference to wartime shipping restrictions and quotas allowed, both import and export.

Under the supervision of the Branch and with the close co-operation of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the Bureau of Translations, a Portuguese edition of the Canadian handbook for distribution in Brazil was issued during the year. A Spanish edition for distribution in other Latin American countries was published last year.

Exhibitions and Publicity Services

The Exhibitions and Publicity Services in the United Kingdom are a consolidation under the Department of Trade and Commerce of all publicity services—advertising, exhibitions, etc.

An Advisory Committee on Publicity, under the Chairmanship of the High Commissioner, supervises the expenditures for advertising and publicity in the United Kingdom. The members of this committee include the Chief Canadian Trade Commissioner in the United Kingdom, and representatives of the Department of External Affairs on the staff of the High Commissioner. An opportunity to attend these meetings and submit items for the agenda is afforded representatives in London of other government departments, including Agriculture, Fisheries and Mines and Resources.

Since the outbreak of war the Exhibitions Branch in the United Kingdom has been closed but the Publicity Committee are endeavouring to maintain established contacts.

The Exhibition Commission maintains an office in Ottawa. During the past year displays depicting Canadian tourist attractions have been prepared and installed in a number of Sportsmen and Travel Shows held in various cities throughout the United States. The Canadian Naval War Exhibition which will tour Canada from January to August 1943, was prepared by this Division. The activities of the Exhibition Commission are being wholly devoted to the promotion of the war effort.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics

A Commission on Statistics in 1912 recommended a series of specific reforms and enlargements in Canadian statistics, and a policy of statistical co-ordination for the Dominion, under central direction.

Following the recommendations of this report, the office of Dominion Statistician was created in 1915 and three years later the Dominion Bureau of Statistics was set up by statute as a central statistical organization.

Since its organization in 1918, the Bureau has created out of many heterogeneous units a unified, nation-wide statistical system in which the correlation of the several subjects and their interpretation from a comprehensive national viewpoint has been the primary objective. By means of Dominion-Provincial statistical conferences held from time to time, a useful degree of co-operation and uniformity of statistical classification and method has been achieved and progress along these lines continues. These main advantages of statistical centralization have not only been substantially attained, but the treatment of statistics, not merely as aggregations of figures, but as primary data from which complex social and economic phenomena may be interpreted, has been emphasized. This view of a true national statistic as revealing the controlling economic forces that operate and their interplay, and the value of such a statistic in administrative planning along national lines, involves, of course, an added function of the Bureau, viz., its usefulness as a national laboratory for economic and social research. This is a development that, as yet, is in its infancy but the foundation of such a service, comparable with the increasing importance of Canada in the economic and political world, has already been laid.

As now organized, the Branches of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics are: I. Administration; II. Census; III. Vital Statistics; IV. Agricultural Statistics; V. Fisheries and Animal Products; VI. Mining, Metallurgical and Chemical; VII. Forestry and Allied Industries; VIII. General Manufactures; IX. External Trade (Imports and Exports); X. Internal Trade; XI. Construction; XII. Transportation and Public Utilities; XIII. Financial Statistics; XIV. Judicial Statistics; XV. Education Statistics; XVI. Census of Institutions; XVII. Industrial Research and Social Analysis.

While primarily serving the Government, the Bureau realizes that, in a democratic community, every citizen is a part of the Government and should be well informed regarding the social and economic conditions of his country. Accordingly, the Bureau furnishes to all applicants answers to all manner of questions on all sorts of topics. In particular, it supplies to business men of all classes information regarding business conditions and statistics regarding production, imports, exports, prices, stocks, etc., of all kinds of commodities, thus enabling them to direct their operations more effectively to their own greater advantage and to the greater advantage of Canada. Special tabulations may be made, or other investigations carried out at a fee based only on the extra clerical costs to the Bureau.

Canada Grain Act

Under the Canada Grain Act of 1912 the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada was created as a semi-judicial and administrative body to administer the Act. Its duties and powers are to provide for the inspection and weighing of grain; to license and supervise the operation of grain elevators; to register warehouse receipts for grain delivered to terminal and eastern elevators; to collect and collate grain statistics; to maintain a grain research laboratory; to operate terminal elevators constructed by the Dominion Government; and to inquire into any matter upon or without complaint made relating to the handling of grain under the Act. It also administers the Inland Water Freight Rates Act.

The board, which consists of a chief commissioner and two commissioners, has its offices in Winnipeg. Four assistant commissioners, stationed respectively at Winnipeg, Calgary, Saskatoon and Fort William, investigate complaints and thereafter make a full report to the board. In addition to the executive offices, which include the secretary with clerical staff, the Licence and Bonding and Statistics Branches, the organization comprises the Inspection, Weighing and Registration branches, the management of the Canadian Government Elevators, the Grain Appeal Tribunals to decide on appeals from decisions of grain inspecting officers, Committees on Grain Standards to select and settle standards for the different grades of grain in the Eastern and Western divisions, and the Grain Research Laboratory.

Inspection offices are located at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton for primary inspection, at Fort William and Vancouver for terminal and final inspection, at Montreal, Toronto and Chatham for resampling and checking western grain passing through the Eastern division, and grading grain grown in the Eastern division. Inspection services are also maintained at all other points at which terminal elevators are situated. The Weighing Branch provides weighing services on all grain delivered to or shipped from terminal elevators and maintains staffs at all points at which terminal elevators are situated. The Registration Branch records all terminal and Eastern warehouse receipts and transfer receipts for grain unloaded into terminal or Eastern elevators, and cancels these receipts when the grain is shipped. Of the public terminal elevators constructed by the Department of Trade and Commerce only those at Moose Jaw, Saskatoon, Lethbridge, Calgary, Edmonton, and Prince Rupert are now maintained and operated by a general manager under the board. The Grain Research Laboratory at Winnipeg acts in an advisory capacity to the board, conducts investigations to determine the value of the different grades and varieties of grain, and investigates problems connected with grading, transportation and storage, moisture content and other problems peculiar to grain.

The Board is also charged with the administration of The Grain Futures Act, 1939. The provisions of this Act, however, had not been put into force at January 1st, 1941.

Under The Prairie Farm Assistance Act of 1939 the Board collects from producers in the three Prairie Provinces and the Peace River District of British Columbia one per centum of the purchase price of all Western wheat, oats, barley and rye sold to licensees under the Canada Grain Act.

Under the provisions of Order in Council P.C. 10229, dated 19 November, 1942, the Board collects the levy for War Risk Insurance on grain.

Export Permit Branch

Canadian exports must be watched closely in order to prevent them falling into enemy hands and to ensure sufficient supplies to carry on our war effort both at home and abroad with maximum efficiency. Several Government Departments are concerned with export control, but in order to avoid confusion and delay, control has been centralized in the Export Permit Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Export control became increasingly complicated during 1942. The list of strategic materials has grown rapidly. Shortages have been discovered literally over night, and the number of commodities under export control has increased until it now covers practically all commodities. The export of these commodities is closely controlled with regard to destination, nature and extent. Ocean transport and the obtaining of shipping space is now often a controlling factor, making it necessary to ensure that every inch of space is devoted to essentials. At present, sea-borne exports are being given shipping priority ratings, along with their export permit, in order to ensure that space is allotted in accordance with war needs and the needs of the importing country. Exports to blockade areas are checked closely from every angle and require communication with agencies both on this continent and in the United Kingdom, while exports to neutral countries and even to various Allied destinations require careful checking in regard to consignees. Allied nations which formerly were supplied from other sources have turned to Canada as these sources were closed to them, appealing for materials of every kind, so that Canada now carries the burden of trying to supply part of their war needs as well as her own. The application of price ceilings in Canada has brought with it the problem of higher prices abroad, offering considerable inducement to Canadian exporters to sell abroad rather than at home, making some form of export control necessary. The Canadian Government, in order to keep prices down for domestic consumption, has been paying substantial subsidies on many products, which subsidies would be lost if these goods were exported without any check. As a result, several foods and other commodities have been brought under export control in order that such subsidies may be recovered before export is allowed.

From time to time, other factors have entered the picture: The United States, on whom Canada depends for a great percentage of her imports, especially since Empire sources have been partially cut off, allows supplies to enter Canada freely while restricting them to other destinations. It is therefore necessary that Canadian export control conform closely with that of the United States in order that these imported supplies may not be obtained from Canada when they could not be obtained from the United States.

In actual practice, the processing of export permit applications is as follows: They are submitted to Controllers, Administrators, and the various Government Departments interested from the point of supply; consignee and destination are checked; United States or British officials are consulted, if necessary; if quotas have been established, it is necessary to see that the application comes within the quota. Finally after consideration from every angle, the application is issued or refused. Permits cannot be issued at a moment's notice, and exporters have been urged repeatedly when accepting foreign orders, to apply for a permit immediately, so that in the event of their securing shipping space, they will be able to ship on short notice and not be held up by lack of the necessary export permit. In cases where manufacture of goods may take a long time, a special clearance process has been instituted. If the application is regarded favourably in every way, a clearance certificate, which is a "go ahead" signal, is issued as a guarantee that an export permit will be granted when the goods are ready. Considerable care, naturally, has to be exercised in the granting of such certificates. It cannot be stressed too strongly that foreign orders should be supported wherever possible by certificates of essentiality, as an official indication of the necessity of the goods to the importing countries.

The Canadian Shipping Board

The Canadian Shipping Board was established by Order-in-Council, P.C. 4251, dated December 21st, 1939, (1) to co-ordinate the activities of the various government departments and organizations concerned with shipping; (2) to devise measures for meeting Canada's wartime shipping problems and (3) to provide a Canadian governmental agency capable of dealing directly and co-operating effectively with the United Kingdom Ministry of Shipping which, following the outbreak of the war, had assumed complete control over British merchant ships and shipping.

At present, the powers and duties of the Board as defined in Order-in-Council, P.C. 6785 of July 31st, 1942, are:

- "(a) to restrict and control all voyages by British ships registered in Canada of over 150 tons gross, not being classified by the Department of Fisheries as a fishing vessel;
- (b) to issue the licences required by these Regulations which licences may be special or general with reference to classes of ships and their voyages;
- (c) to deal with all applications for transportation and priority of movement with respect of the transport of materials and supplies other than those consigned to the Government of the United Kingdom or of any other country, by water between ports in Canada or between ports in Canada and ports in the United Kingdom, or any other of his Majesty's Dominions, or in any other state;
- (d) to recommend to the departments concerned, or to the Governor in Council, policies or specific measures designed to assist in providing water transport for Canadian import, export and domestic requirements; and

- (e) to keep in close and constant contact with the United Kingdom Ministry of War Transport and the appropriate departments or agencies of the Government of the United States for the purpose of securing the fullest possible co-operation of the United Kingdom and United States authorities towards meeting Canadian import and export requirements."

Additional authority is conferred on the Board under Regulation 44 of the Defence of Canada Regulations by which it may control Canadian ships in respect of the following matters:

- "(a) the trades in which the ship may be engaged, and the voyages which may be undertaken by the ship;
(b) the classes of cargoes or passengers which may be carried in the ship; and
(c) the chartering of the ship, and the terms and conditions upon which cargoes or passengers may be carried in the ship."

Originally, the Board was concerned largely with providing adequate shipping space for the sea transportation of materials shipped abroad, but as the war progressed, the maintenance of export trade became a matter of less consequence and the Board's present work is (1) to provide space for the orderly movement of essential import materials into Canada and of Canadian priority materials to allied and friendly countries and (2) to control and direct the inland shipping required for essential bulk movements within Canada.

To perform these functions, the Board through its Ship Licensing Committee controls the voyages of all Canadian vessels exceeding 150 gross tons other than fishing vessels, in order to ensure that they are employed to the best advantage in the prosecution of the war. It also controls chartering of all vessels over 150 gross tons by Canadian interests and in conjunction with the British Ministry of War Transport and with the War Shipping Administration of the United States, has placed definite ceilings on time-charter rates payable for vessels, in order to prevent inflation in water transportation costs. In consultation with the Minister of Transport, it exercises control over the sale of Canadian vessels to foreign registry in order to prevent ships essential to Canada's war effort being removed from Canadian registry, and is the central organization through which the Canadian Armed Services funnel their requests for merchant vessels required by them for special service.

Through its Representatives in London and Washington, the Board maintains close contact with the British and American shipping authorities in order that British and American shipping, may be made available, as required, for essential Canadian requirements or vice versa. The Board also, through its Ship's Privilege License system, co-operates with these authorities in discouraging neutral vessels from engaging in trades helpful to the enemy.

The Board, which consists of eight members, reports to the Government through the Minister of Trade and Commerce. The Chairman is also the Director of Shipping and chief executive officer of the Board, the other members being the Transport Controller, the President of Wartime Merchant Shipping Limited, and representatives of the Departments of External Affairs, National Defence for Naval Services, National Revenue, Trade and Commerce, and Transport.

Communications in regard to the business of the Board should be addressed to the Secretary, the Canadian Shipping Board, Room 178, West Block, Ottawa.

Shipping Priorities Committee

The Shipping Priorities Committee was established by an Order-in-Council dated October 31, 1941, the duties being to ascertain Canadian shipping space requirements, to determine the degree of priority or urgency of such requirements and the extent to which they can be met by the use of ships of Canadian registry or of ships provided by the British Ministry of War Transport. Having made such determinations, the Shipping Priorities Committee is charged with the duty of presenting "to the competent authority of the Government of the United States requests for the allotment of cargo space . . ." on ships controlled by the War Shipping Administration to enable Canadian requirements to receive equal consideration with those of the United States. In the early stages, the Committee was concerned only with import shipping space requirements and priorities, on the basic understanding that the importing country alone could determine the nature of the commodities required. However, when the United States instituted a system of priorities and shipping space allocations to the Latin American Republics, the Shipping Priorities Committee developed a means of placing Canadian requirements before the Board of Economic Warfare in Washington.

The Shipping Priorities Committee compiles a Shipping Priority List covering essential import requirements showing the quantities and sources of supply of each commodity together with the priority rating assigned. This List is highly confidential as the information it contains would be of value to the enemy. The estimated requirements are broken down to show the quantities of goods which will be moved by the Canadian Shipping Board and the British Ministry of War Transport, and the quantity which the War Shipping Administration have been requested to carry for Canadian account. The contents of the Shipping Priorities List are communicated to the various shipping companies who will carry cargo in accordance with its priority rating and commodities not listed are moved only if spare space is available. The Committee has worked very closely with the Division of Stockpiling and Transportation of the War Production Board and with the United States Shipping Priorities Committee and Canada's space requirements have received very sympathetic consideration and a very large quantity of goods for Canada was carried on United States vessels in 1942.

With respect to export shipments, the Shipping Priorities Committee is at present only directly concerned with those to Latin America. The only regular steamer services are operating from United States ports and the space is allocated by the Board of Economic Warfare in consultation with the War Shipping Administration. Machinery has been set up by which the Shipping Priorities Committee submits applications to the Board of Economic Warfare on behalf of Canadian exporters to Latin America and thus secure a fair share of the shipping space which is available.

The officers of the Committee are Trade Commissioners and the staff has been drawn largely from the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Foreign Exchange Control Board

General Principles

The main purpose of foreign exchange control is to balance as far as possible Canada's income and outgo of United States dollars in order to ensure that United States dollars will be available as required to obtain vital war and other imports and at the same time to meet contractual obligations payable in United States currency. Exports are Canada's largest source of United States dollars and it is a fundamental principle of exchange control that all exports from Canada to the United States and to all other countries outside the sterling area should produce United States dollars or foreign currencies which may be freely converted into United States dollars and that such United States dollars be made available to the Foreign Exchange Control Board. Payment for exports to countries in the sterling area may be obtained in any foreign currency or in Canadian dollars since the operation of similar Exchange Controls in those countries ensures that Canadian dollars used to pay for exports from Canada have been derived through properly authorized channels.

Export Licence

In order that the Board may ensure that Canada's exports do make available the proper kind and amounts of foreign exchange, it is necessary for it to know what exports are being made and when and by whom payment for such exports has been or will be received. Accordingly, a licence on the Board's Form B, which is consolidated with the export entry form required by the Canadian Customs, is required for every export of goods from Canada for which Customs ordinarily require an export entry. The form is not required in any other case. A Collector of Customs and Excise issues Form B on behalf of the Board at the time the relative Customs export entry is filed with him, although in some cases where the export is to a non-sterling area country and is not going to produce foreign exchange, the prior approval of an Authorized Dealer (a chartered bank) or of the Board is required.

The Board does not exercise any control over the kinds of goods which may be exported and its licence serves merely as a declaration that goods have been legally exported from Canada, of the kind and amount of payment which has been or is to be received and of the time when such payment has been or will be received. The Board's licence does not authorize any export which is prohibited or for which a licence or permit is required under any other law.

Payment for Exports

Exports to the United States and to all other countries outside the sterling area must ordinarily be made for payment within six months of shipment in United States dollars or foreign currencies which may be freely converted into United States dollars. Exports to the sterling area may be made for payment in sterling or in any other foreign currency or in Canadian dollars. NOTE: The "Sterling area" means and includes territories under the sovereignty, protection, suzerainty, or mandate of His Majesty (except Canada and Newfoundland) and also includes Egypt, the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Belgian Congo, Ruanda-Urundi, Iceland, the Faroe Islands, French Cameroons, French

Equatorial Africa (composed of Chad, Ubanghi-Chari, Middle Congo and Gaboon), French Settlements in India, French Oceania, Syria, Lebanon and Iraq.

Except with the special permission of the Board, goods already imported into Canada which have been or are to be paid for in United States funds may not be exported to a sterling area country other than for payment in United States dollars unless the goods have been processed in Canada.

When an exporter receives payment for an export in United States dollars (or a currency freely convertible into United States dollars), he is required to offer the foreign exchange for sale to his Authorized Dealer and to complete a declaration on the Board's Form C (Declaration of Foreign Exchange Offered for Sale) as evidence that he has obtained and made available to the Board the proper kind and amount of foreign exchange arising out of the export.

If price lists are issued in terms of Canadian dollars subject to eventual payment in United States dollars, the conversion rate which should be applied is the official buying rate for United States dollars quoted by the Board. It may be noted that at the time of writing, the official buying rate is 10% premium on U.S. funds and this rate has been in effect since the inception of Control. Therefore, if an exporter has an invoice for $100 Canadian currency, he must secure at least $90.90 United States currency in order that he may ultimately be credited with the face value of $100 Canadian currency when he sells his foreign exchange to the bank. Therefore, to arrive at the amount of United States dollar payable, the face value of the invoice in Canadian dollars should be discounted by 9.09%.

In connection with the requirement that exports to non-sterling area countries be paid for in U.S. funds, Authorized Dealers will pay spot rates for forward sales of United States dollars. Accordingly, a Canadian exporter can cover himself for forward exchange in United States dollars without any additional cost. Suppose a Canadian exporter has an export shipment amounting to $1,100 in Canadian funds, but converts this to $1,000 United States funds and draws a draft on his customer abroad for 90 days, and presents this draft to his bank in Canada for collection. At the same time that he presents this draft for collection, he can sell forward his $1,000 United States currency, which he will not receive for 90 days, for $1,100 Canadian currency.

Special Permits

As outlined above, the ordinary procedure with respect to exports of goods is that the exporter must account for and declare and sell to his Authorized Dealer as soon as received the foreign exchange received for each export. In order to facilitate the carrying on of ordinary commercial transactions and the continuance of the previous practices of certain types of exporters, the Board has, however, established various special procedures. In appropriate cases, special permits are issued by the Board under which the permit holder, instead of accounting for the proceeds of each individual shipment, furnishes the Board with periodic reports containing the information the Board requires. The Board's examiners may examine the permit holders' books and records in order to verify the reports made to the Board and obtain any other information required.

Export of Capital

One of the primary purposes of the Foreign Exchange Control Order is to prevent unauthorized exports of capital and exporters should note that, unless the approval of the Board has been obtained, it constitutes an export of capital and is an offence under the Order—

- (a) To export from Canada to a country outside the sterling area and Newfoundland property for which no settlement has been or is to be received, or
- (b) To sell any property for export to a country outside the sterling area or Newfoundland, or to sell any property exported from Canada to such a country, or to export from Canada to such a country any property which has been sold on terms which provide for payment of a price less than the fair value thereof or on terms which provide for payment more than six months after shipment, or
- (c) To fail to take reasonable steps to collect a debt owing by a non-resident with respect to goods or other property exported or to be exported from Canada to a country outside the sterling area or Newfoundland or to grant an unreasonable extension of time for payment of any such debt.

Further Information

Full information respecting the various Foreign Exchange Control Board forms required to be filled out by Canadian exporters is contained in circulars which have been issued by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association from time to time. More detailed information concerning the Board's policy with respect to exports may be found in the Board's Bulletin No. 2 entitled "Exports of Goods" which may be obtained on request from any Office of the Board.

Definitions of Technical Abbreviations used in Foreign Trade and Exchange Transactions.

The following list includes some of the principal abbreviations used in ocean shipping, transportation, marine insurance, and foreign exchange, as well as a number referring to standards, gauges, threads, dimensions, electrical and engineering terms. It was compiled with the assistance of our members, marine insurance companies, banks and departments of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association. It is hoped it will be useful both to Canadian exporters and importers of Canadian products abroad.

INDUSTRIAL CHANGES IN CANADA AS INDICATED BY THE 1943 CANADIAN TRADE INDEX

As a result of wartime controls the manufacture of a number of civilian products has been restricted or discontinued during the last year. It was decided, however, to leave the question of listing these products to the decision of individual firms, and it will be found that most of the classifications have been retained in the present edition. These firms have the experience and equipment to manufacture and supply the products to domestic and export markets when industrial and trade controls are relaxed. Following is a short summary of the various changes in the 1943 edition:

Explanation of List

THE list beginning on the opposite page comprises the names and addresses, alphabetically arranged, of all firms appearing in the classified section of the Canadian Trade Index. In this list we have tried to give the users of the book some information that will be useful in getting into quick touch with the makers of any desired article.

No street addresses are given in Part III (the classified article section). These are recorded where necessary to complete the address in Part II (the alphabetical list).

We have not attempted to give, in this list, any full account of the products. These will all be found under separate headings in the classified section on pages 323 and following. Where the firm or company name does not indicate clearly the line of goods manufactured, some of the main articles produced, or the nature of the firm's business, are mentioned.

The address given is that of the main place of business in Canada, usually the head office, although it may be both factory and office address. The addresses given later, under "Factories," "Mills," or "Plants" are generally those of branch factories. Branch offices also are given.

For. Rep. or simply Rep. means foreign or other representative for export sales purposes.

The Cable addresses and codes will be found useful in initiating and transacting export business.

Names of new firms received too late for listing in the main body of the blue section will be found under "Additions" at the end of this section.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association Incorporated

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association was incorporated by Act of Parliament in 1902.

OBJECTS

The objects of the Association are to promote Canadian industries and to further the interests of Canadian manufacturers and exporters, and to render such services and assistance to the members of the Association, and to manufacturers and exporters generally, as the Association shall deem advisable from time to time.

SERVICES

In war most of the services listed below are more in demand than ever. War and war conditions have brought many new problems arising out of adapting the industrial system of the country to new production, locating new sources of raw materials and manufactured goods, finding new markets, complying with new regulations in existing markets, exchange control and import restrictions, employer and employee relations, shipping and insurance, legal and taxation difficulties, scientific and industrial research, priorities and control of materials.

Transportation Department—Deals with and watches developments in all matters affecting Transportation by Air, Highway, Inland Water, Ocean, Rail, Telegraph or Telephone. Acts for or advises members respecting Claims, Classifications, Contracts, Documents, Legislation, Rates, Regulations, Rules or Services pertaining to the transportation of Communications, Goods, Mail or Passengers. Supplies information on control of oil and gasoline.

Tariff Department—Interpretation of Canadian Customs Tariff; information in regard to tariffs of all civilized countries; questions of value for duty; assistance in Customs drawback claims and refunds; advice in regard to invoices; preparation of cases for the Tariff Board; assistance in the matter of needed tariff changes; advice on sales and excise tax problems. Supplies information on price control, export permits, trading with the enemy, import licensing requirements of other countries and foreign exchange control.

Insurance Department—Studies insurance legislation, including war risk insurance and bombardment insurance, gives confidential advice on the standing of insurance companies, information on group insurance and pension schemes, and co-operates with other organizations in fire prevention and insurance matters in general.

Legal Department—Maintains a watching brief on all Canadian legislation, receives copies of all Bills introduced in Federal and Provincial legislatures, studies the measures proposed, and assists the Legislation Committee in deciding and carrying out the policies of the Association. Deals with problems arising under the Income War Tax Act, the Excess Profits Tax Act and numerous regulations issued under the War Measures Act.

Commercial Intelligence Department—Information re articles made in Canada; names of manufacturers of articles; information re agencies and export connections; sources of supplies of raw materials; Government regulations re manufacturers; translations of foreign correspondence; classified lists of manufacturers; commercial statistics and trade information; commercial reports on overseas firms; priorities and controls; war restrictions on manufacturing; problems of war production.

The Trade Sections Department supplies a secretarial and organizing service to any group of manufacturers who may desire to organize along lines of production and for the purpose of dealing with common problems incidental to any trade.

Industrial Relations Department—Studies various questions arising out of relations between employers and employees. Among the more important of these are Workmen's Compensation, Old Age Pensions, Hours of Work, Unemployment Insurance, Conciliation and Arbitration of Industrial Disputes, Wages and Salaries Control, including Cost of Living Bonus, and Factory Legislation.

Publishing Department—The following publications are supplied to all members of the Association:

(a) "Industrial Canada" the official organ of the Association, which contains information compiled from the various Departments, and also commercial news of a general character.

(b) The Canadian Trade Index—This book contains a list of all the manufacturers in Canada, with the Goods which they make. It is distributed abroad through Government Trade Commissioners, Export Organizations and other agencies.

FEES

The Association is maintained by the fees paid by members. The fee in each case is determined by the number of employees. For further information please communicate with the Head Office—

Guide to Classified Index

THE method of indexing the material on the succeeding pages is that by which the most important word in headings is generally placed first. The arrangement then proceeds in the proper alphabetical order. In the majority of cases it will be found that the noun or main name comes first, i.e.—Furniture, bedroom; Hardware, builders; Leather, boot and shoe upper, etc. This allows the grouping of all similar articles close together. In other cases, where the inversion seems unnatural, the headings have been listed as they run—air appliances; fire escapes, etc. If any difficulty is experienced in locating desired headings or articles, users of the book should try both forms of listing. This will enable the heading to be found if it appears in the book at all.

In all cases we have endeavored to use the names most commonly known. It is possible that we have listed some products and materials under names that differ from those that our subscribers use. Synonyms will therefore be useful to bear in mind.

Cross references have been supplied where two or more names are commonly used to describe the same article.

Street addresses of the firms listed in the classified section are provided where necessary in the alphabetical list of names (on blue sheets) immediately preceding the Classified Section (Part III, pages 323 to 712).

Attention is also called to the French Index of articles, which is placed immediately after the Produce Section (Part IV, pages 713 to 719). In a limited edition a Spanish Index also appears following the French Index.

Firms before whose name an asterisk appears are engaged or seriously interested in Export Trade. However, due to war conditions, many of these firms have discontinued or greatly restricted their export business.

Similarly because of the change over to war production and the consequent allocation of raw materials to war goods, some of the products listed on the following pages may not be available at the present time.

We shall be glad to have the opportunity of giving additional information to any manufacturer or user of the Canadian Trade Index. No charge is made for this service.
